The Democratic party, pretending to great political wisdom, forced the Constitution of $1872$ on the people by fraud and chicanery, thereby reviving that antiquated legal monstrosity called the County Court, which, for eight years has cursed the tax ridden people to such an extent that the same party has been compelled, by by popular groans, to submit a loose, insufficient and myddy constitutional amendment to rid us of the present court system, which amendment, without assuming any responsibility for it, our people should support for the time being, and until the republican party is enabled by proper legislation to provide a simpler and less burdensome system.

The Republican party piedges itself, if placed in power, to legislate for the best interests of labor reform, that honest toil may have the same careful protection and privileges that may be afforded to capital. We denounce the extortion of monopolies and any system devised by which the laboring man is deprived of his just earnings, up rep. payments in any other medium than the legal currency of the country. Finally, the Republican party piedges itself, to labor for the overthrow of Bourbonism and the inauguration of a wise, liberal and progressive policy in State affairs that shall bring West Virginia into harmony with her alster states, and cause her to share in the prosperity, wealth and growing power of the great States of the North and West.
